Seminoles 12th in golf tourney

Florida State established itself in the top ten of the first day of action and then dropped out of it as the Seminole golf team took 13th place in the Houston All-America Tournament this past weekend.

The Seminoles started out in ninth place after the first two rounds of action and then fell to tenth for Saturday's final 18 holes. Then, because of some hot rounds by the opposition, the Seminoles fell to 12th in the final totals.

Jim Ihnot was the leader individually for the Tribe all the way as he ended up ninth in individual totals. Ihnot finished the four rounds with a 291 total which was five-strokes better than senior teammate Mark Alwin.

In the overall team standings, the University of Houston won both the team title and the individual honors. The Cougars had a final day surge to pass the University of Florida and finish with a 1,150 stroke total. This was four shots better than the Gators.

The individual winner was

Tom Kite of Houston who had a final day 70 and finished with a 278 total. Second in the match was Cougar Corkey DeLoach of Houston with 282 and Gary Koch of Florida finished third with a 284 total.

The other three Florida State team members at the tournament were Steve Mullins who finished with a 312 total for 72 holes, Todd Crandall (313) and Bill Voyles.

The Seminoles finished with a 1212 total as a team which was 62 strokes off the winning pace.
