Stroke of excellence

Blixt wins medalist honors at Shoal Creek Collegiate

Brett Julia

October 02, 2006

The Florida State men's golf team had their best performance of the young season last week by recording a third place finish at the Shoal Creek Collegiate in Birmingham, Alabama. Junior Jonas Blixt led the way for the team's third place finish as he shot a five-under par 67 in the final round en route to winning the tournament's individual championship.

Entering the last day of the tournament, Blixt found himself in seventh place and four strokes behind LSU's Brian Noonan. Over the course of the final 18 holes, however, the Sweden native stormed past Noonan and the rest of the competition to claim a three-stroke victory.

Blixt finished the tournament with a score of 211, nearly tying his career best of 209 set in the spring of 2005 at the Gator Invitational.

Not far behind Blixt in the individual standings and helping the Noles place third was sophomore Matt Savage. Savage shot a 215 for the tournament to finish in third place. The finish was the best of Savage's young career and was his second career top ten finish. His other top ten performance came at the Linger Longer Invitational last spring.

Savage's play in the first two rounds was a big part in his individual and the team's success throughout the tournament. He came out of the gates quickly and set the pace for the team by shooting a three-under par 69 in round one and followed that performance with an even par 72 in round two.

Not to be left out of the equation is freshman Cameron Knight, who contributed nicely in round two of the tournament with his two-under par 70.

Despite the effort, it wasn't enough to lift the team past SEC participants Alabama and Tennessee. The Crimson Tide put a stranglehold on the lead from the start and never fell from first place en route to shooting an 869 to pick up the team championship. The Vols tried keeping pace with the Tide, but Alabama was just too much for them in the end as they finished in second place with an 875. The Noles finished seven strokes behind Tennessee with an 882.

Florida State will look to build on the momentum gained in Birmingham and try to carry that with them to South Bend, Ind. where they will take part in the Notre Dame Fighting Irish Gridiron Golf Classic. The tournament will be held on Oct. 9-10 and results can be found via seminoles.com.
