FLORIDA STATE WOMEN'S BASKETBALL FALL AT GEORGIA TECH

ATLANTA, Ga. -- Florida State remained winless in the Atlantic Coast Conference with a 75-51 loss to Georgia Tech this evening at Alexander Memorial Coliseum. Florida State falls to 5-12 on the year and 0-8 in the league while the Lady Jackets improve to 11-6 overall and 4-4 in the ACC.

It took a few minutes for Florida State to get into the game when after their first basket at 18:57, the Lady Seminoles didn't score again for over seven minutes. When Lysa Moorefield finally hit a jumper at 11:37 for two of her 10 first half points, the Tribe found themselves down 15-4. FSU pulled to within eight at 17-9 when head coach Chris Gobrecht was called for a technical foul. The Lady Jackets proceeded to score the game's next five points and at the 7:11 mark had their largest lead of 15 at 24-9 and seemed to be in control of the contest. Thanks to a couple of Wendy Hampton three pointers and solid play though, FSU went on a 14-2 run over the next two minutes to pull within three at 26-23. The Tribe went into the lockerroom down five at 30-25.

The Tribe started out slow in the second half as well. After pulling within four (32-28) after a Hampton three pointer, FSU allowed Georgia Tech to score the game's next 15 points, 11 of which were scored by Kisha Ford. Ford, who scored just six points in the first half, finished the game with a game-high 25 points. Unlike the first half though, there was not to be an FSU run. Florida State fell behind by double figures and could never recover.

Leading the way for Florida State was Moorefield with 17 points. Hampton had 14 points, including four three pointers.

"This is about as disappointed as I've been in this basketball team this year," Gobrecht said. "I was really disappointed in our effort. There were numerous possessions in the second half that we let them just out-hustle us. That's just unforgiveable and it happened several times."

Florida State will play at No. 17 North Carolina State on Sunday, Jan. 26 at 2 p.m.
