FLORIDA STATE WOMEN'S GOLF FINISHES IN SECOND, NORTH CAROLINA WINS LADY SEMINOLE INVITATIONAL

TALLAHASSEE, FL--The Florida State Lady Seminole golf team fired a 290 today to finish in second place at the Lady Seminole Invitational at the Seminole Golf Course. The Lady Seminoles entered the day tied for sixth, but moved up to second after firing the low total for the day. It marked the best finish by a Lady Seminole team since a second-place finish at the 1997 Ryder-Florida State Championship.

Senior Amy Bond paced the Tribe on Sunday, firing the low round of the day with a 69. Bond, a native of Ocala, FL, rebounded from an opening round 78 to finish alone in ninth place with a three-round total of 220.

Sarah Capie recorded her second top 10 finish at Florida State, placing tied for 10th with Heather Angell of North Carolina and Kelly Kirwin of Wake Forest. Capie carded a final-round 74 to finish at 221. Amy Spooner, the U.S. Women's Amateur Public Links champion, struggled in her final round with a 78. Spooner ended the tournament tied for 13th.

Sophomore Louise Wright posted her first sub-par round as a Lady Seminole with a 71 on Sunday. The Suffolk, England native finished tied for 28th with seven other golfers. It also marked her highest finish at FSU. Erika Iding rounded out the scoring for the Lady Seminoles, finishing tied for 46th at 231.

The University of North Carolina ran away with the team championship, beating FSU by 14 strokes. The Lady Tar Heels had three golfers in the top 10 and posted the lowest team total in Lady Seminole Invitational history.

Jenny Dugan of Kentucky led the tournament from start to finish, winning by four strokes. Dugan set the tournament record with a 66 in the first round and added rounds of 72 and 70 to finish at 208. Marcy Newton of North Carolina finished in second, while teammate Shelley McKeivitt finished in third.
