Wolfpack Beats Florida State 2-1 On Late Goal

RALEIGH, N.C. -- Freshman Kris Phillips scored twice, including the game-winner with just 3:24 left to play Sunday afternoon, to lift NC State to a 2-1 women's soccer victory over Florida State at Method Road Soccer Stadium.

The victory, the Wolfpack's first in Atlantic Coast Conference action, lifted NC State to 7-10 overall and 1-5 in the ACC. Florida State dropped to 6-10-3 overall and 1-4-1 in the conference. NC State has one conference match remaining, next Sunday at Duke, and needs at least a tie or a victory to move ahead of the Seminoles for the seventh seed in the upcoming ACC Tournament.

Florida State took a 1-0 lead over the Wolfpack at the 8:57 mark when Jill Ford drilled home a 20-yarder on a direct kick following an NC State foul, and the Seminoles had several chances in the next 15 minutes to build on their lead, but came up empty.

NC State began to turn the tide at around the 25-minute mark and tied the game at 28:08 when Phillips took a crossing pass from Lisa Boggs and drilled in a 15-yard shot from just to the right of the center of the goal.

The score stood at 1-1 for the next 57-plus minutes and the game appeared destined for overtime, but Shannon Blair cleared a loose ball out of a crowd near midfield and fed Phillips for the game-winner, a 15-yarder from the right post, at the 86:36 mark.

*A shot is an attempt that is taken with the intent of scoring and is directed toward the goal. Note: A cross is not a shot. A cross is a long kick from a wide position into the penalty area in front of the goal. The intent of a cross is to set up a scoring opportunity for an attacking player. A goalkeeper who intercepts a cross is not credited with a save. To receive a save, the goalkeeper must have stopped a ball that otherwise would have gone into the goal. Each shot results in one of five possibilities: a goal, a save, it hits the post, it is blocked by a defender, or it is high or wide.
