LADY SEMINOLES TO MAKE 12 TH NCAA REGIONALS APPEARANCE

LADY SEMINOLES RECEIVE AT-LARGE BID

With a 51-19 record and fresh off a split with No. 6 South Florida in Tampa, the Lady Seminoles were awarded an at-large bid to NCAA Regionals. Florida State, though, had to wait a bit for the news as the team was the 30th team announced among the 32-team field.

FSU IN NCAA REGIONAL PLAY

Florida State will be making its 12 NCAA Regionals appearance when the Lady Seminoles head to Stillwater, Oklahoma this weekend. FSU's first regionals appearance was in 1986, beginning an 11-consecutive year run for the Tribe. Last season, despite a 45-19-1 record, FSU did not receive a bid. FSU's all-time record in NCAA regional play is 18-13.

FSU AND THE COLLEGE WORLD SERIES

The Lady Seminoles have advanced to the College World Series five times. FSU's first appearance at the CWS was in 1987. After a two-year absence, the Tribe returned to the big show in 1990 and went again in 1991, 1992 and made its last appearance in 1993. FSU's all-time record in the CWS is 3-10 and its best finish was 3rd in 1990.

FSU IN STILLWATER

This won't be the first trip to Stillwater, Okla., for the Lady Seminoles. FSU participated in an NCAA Regional in Stillwater back in the 1994 season. That year, the Tribe lost to Oklahoma 1-3 and was eliminated by Providence with a 1-2 loss.

THE TRIBE VS. THE REGIONAL FIELD

FSU VS. THE 32-TEAM REGIONAL FIELD

Florida State has played 12 of the 31 other teams participating in NCAA Regionals at least one time this season. Of those 12 opponents, three are number one seeds at their respective regionals. FSU is 7-8 in those games, but two of those wins were against number one seeds.

VENABLE, WHITE GOIN' HOME

The Tribe's top two pitchers are Oklahoma natives. ACC Tournament MVP, pitcher Stacy Venable (19-7), and rookie pitching ace Jennifer White (26-7), both hail from the state of Oklahoma. Venable is a native of Choctaw, Oklahoma, while White is from Tuttle, Okla. White, who has not pitched since March 28th because of a rib injury, should be ready for regional action.

WHO'LL GET THE NOD?

Who will get the start on the mound in Game 1 has yet to be determined according to FSU coaches. But it's a good problem. Both White and Venable should be ready to go come Friday!

FSU AND THE ACC TOURNAMENT

No. 2-seeded Florida State made it four consecutive ACC Championship titles and six overall with a 3-0 sweep at the ACC Tournament played in Tallahassee. FSU has won the ACC crown in 1992, 1993, 1995, 1996 and sharing the title in 1997 with Maryland.

FIVE RECEIVE ACC ALL-TOURNEY HONORS

Five Lady Seminoles earned ACC All-Tourney honors - the most of any league school. Jesse McGregor, Kristy Hull, Dana Bailey and Corrie Williams were all named to the all-tourney team while pitcher Stacy Venable was named Most Valuable Player.

Leadoff hitter Dana Bailey leads the way with 27, followed by Danielle Cox's 21, Christy Cerecedes and Kristy Hull each have 15 while Misty Molin has 14. The Tribe has recorded 67 more steals than its opponents. Last year, only two players finished the season with double digits steals. Myssi Calkins had a record setting 61 while Molin turned in 10.

ABOUT THE TALLAHASSEE DEMOCRAT FLORIDA STATE INVITATIONAL

The Tribe didn't lose a game in the three-day, 24 team tournament. FSU outscored its opponents 34-15 in winning eight games. Three of the victories were shut-outs and one was over a higher ranked opponent in then No. 16 LSU. The title marked FSU's seventh Invite title and first since 1993. Jennifer White, who led the team with a 5-0 record on the mound and six RBIs, was named the tournament MVP. Dana Bailey and Kristy Hull also received All-Tournament Team honors.

GIANT KILLERS

In what Coach Graf called, "One of the best days in Florida State softball history," the Seminoles upset No. 3 Washington 1-0 and No. 2 Fresno State 2-1 on Valentine's Day at the Arizona State Coca Cola Classic softball tournament. Freshman Jennifer White pitched complete games against both teams and gave up one earned run and a walk.

Lady Seminoles save the best for last

FSU's Dana Bailey drives in the winning run in the bottom of the seventh to beat Maryland in the first round of the ACC Tournament.

By Bryan Daniels
DEMOCRAT STAFF WRITER

Dana Bailey did more than she expected.

Bailey drove in the winning run in the bottom of the seventh inning to lead Florida State to a 1-0 victory over Maryland before 393 softball fans in the opening round of the ACC Tournament at Lady Seminole Field.

"I was just trying to advance the runner," said Bailey, after knocking in Kristy Hull from second base. "I was trying to get the ball past the infield."

When Bailey did, Maryland center fielder Brooke Mastro missed a diving attempt at the ball.

"I was pumped," Bailey said. "I was just glad it fell in."

The decisive hit will send the Terrapins (24-20) to the losers' bracket against Georgia Tech (23-41) today at 3 p.m.

Meanwhile, FSU (48-18) plays Virginia today at 5 p.m. Virginia beat Georgia Tech 3-1, then upset top-seeded North Carolina 2-1 to move to the winner's bracket. The Lady Seminoles now are one step closer to notching their fourth consecutive and sixth-ever ACC championship.

Bailey, who went 2 for 3, was just one reason why. The others were good defense and solid pitching by Stacy Venable (16-7), who struck out four Terrapin batters and allowed just four hits.

"Stacy threw a great game," FSU coach JoAnne Graf said. "It was one of her best all year."

Said Venable: "I knew the team was really depending on me. It (the win) builds confidence. It gets us off to the right start, like getting the first batter out each inning."

She and Maryland's Kelly Shipman (11-12) turned the game into a pitcher's duel for much of six innings.

Shipman, who also pitched a complete game, allowed eight hits — but none more costly than Bailey's game winner with one out in

"Both teams really played good defense," Shipman said. "It came down to squeezing in a run."

The Terrapins, led by Amy Sandler's 2 for 3 performance, never really came close to scoring — thanks to Venable.

The Lady Seminoles had several chances midway through the game. Their timing was just off.

FSU left runners in scoring position in the third and fifth innings. In the fourth inning, Lady Seminoles' Corrie Williams, who was 2 for 3, was thrown out by Maryland left fielder Annmarie Browne at home plate while attempting to break the scoring drought.

"It was a tough game," Hull said. "I'm glad we stuck with it and didn't give up."

Lady Seminoles meant business from the start

Embarrassed is a strong word. And not everybody can spell it. So we'll go with "perturbed."

The Florida State women's softball team was, uh, perturbed last Saturday night. Playing at Virginia, the regular season winding down, the Lady Seminoles were swept and nearly shut out in a doubleheader, losing 3-0 and 4-1.

With the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament coming up at their own ballpark, that ACC title that FSU has just about owned — four and one tie in six seasons — suddenly looked available again. Or so thought the one team that's won the crown outright from FSU — the Lady Cavaliers.

So as JoAnne Graf's club took the field with Virginia Friday night in the semifinals of the ACC Tournament at Lady Seminole Field, those scores were much on the mind of both teams. Now there is another score to think about.

With a 10-0 "mercy" win over Virginia, a win in which they showed NO mercy, FSU showed that the ACC title will pass through Tallahassee no matter where the games are played, advancing to the title game.

"I wasn't worried, we always come out," senior catcher Kristy Hull said, after a two-hit performance, including an RBI triple. "If it's a big game, we're there."

They certainly were Friday, all of 'em.

A great pitcher in Stacy Venable

You have to start with pitcher Stacy Venable, who was absolutely masterful, holding the Cavaliers to just three hits in five shutout innings, raising her record to 17-7.

She got in trouble only once, in the third, allowing a bloop single, a walk and an infield hit to load the bases for Virginia's Stacy Holmes, an All-Tournament choice a year ago after hitting a pair of home runs.

Then, with everybody in the Virginia dugout on their tiptoes, hollering as if somebody had just spotted Alec Baldwin, Holmes hit a sky-high popup on the very first pitch.

"Fastball on the outside corner," Venable said, smiling. "All I knew was, I wasn't going to walk her."

Venable is quite a story. With Jennifer White, the team's No. 1 pitcher, plagued by an injured rib, Graf needed Venable to step up. Though she's not a strikeout pitcher — "unfortunately," she said with a laugh — she's in a groove. With back-to-back shutouts, she's the tournament MVP right now.

Lady Seminoles have plenty to brag on

But she's not the only red-hot Lady Seminole. First baseman Corrie Williams slammed a double and triple, driving in three runs. And rock-solid junior shortstop Jesse McGregor, who has started all 66 games, had three hits, including a key RBI double in the second.

"I knew (that run) would put the pressure on them," McGregor said. "That's what they did last weekend. We just weren't hitting. Our pitching and defense is always good; it's all about hitting."

Actually, tournament play is often all about pedigree. Class, you could call it. If you've been there, done that, you know how to keep doing it.

If you'd seen the way these Lady Seminoles took the field Friday, the spit-in-your-eye spirit they showed against Virginia's hard-throwing Stacey Zagol, you'd smile. They played like a team on a mission — which is a good idea considering their NCAA snub a year ago.

Of course, as the perennially cautious Graf would note, it's not over yet. FSU still has to win one more game. But even she has to admit Friday's victory — psychologically — was like skywriting over Lady Seminole Field for the rest of the ACC to see. Boy, I bet they're all perturbed now.

A sweep, a celebration and another conference crown

They hugged. They patted one another on the back. The high-fives can't be overlooked either.

Once again, the ACC championship trophy was theirs — and theirs only. Florida State's Kristy Hull, Misty Molin and Sarah King waved the trophy to the 746 softball fans at Lady Seminole Field.

The celebration was on following FSU's 2-1 victory over Virginia.

"It's nice to win championships," coach JoAnne Graf said. "This doesn't compare to regular-season games. When you win championships, it's special."

Said Christy Cerecedes, who scored the winning run: "It's awesome. I can't describe how I feel. This was our goal all along. We've worked hard for this day-in and day-out."

And wouldn't you know, victory didn't come easy against Virginia and pitcher Stacey Zagol, who allowed five hits.

The game-winner came in the bottom of the sixth inning when Hull drove in Cerecedes. Hull's grounder bounced over the head of Virginia third baseman Karen Breshears.

Cerecedes, running from second base, beat the throw by left-fielder Tish Tablan.

"I knew it would be a close play at the plate," said Cerecedes, who was also 2 for 3. "I just told myself to get in there. I just went at the catcher really hard. Luckily, it worked out for me. I knew that if we scored, we wouldn't let them back in the game."

That certainly wasn't going to happen with the way Stacy Venable pitched. In three complete tournament games, she allowed just one run. Venable (18-7) was named most valuable player of the tournament. Against the Cavaliers, she struck out four and allowed six hits.

"I just knew I had to step it up," said Venable, who held the Cavaliers to three hits in Friday's 10-0 victory. "I feel like I could probably go another one. But I'm happy I don't have to."

All of the Lady Seminoles must feel that way after sweeping the competition during the three-day, five-team tournament. The win gave them their sixth ACC championship, including last year when they shared it with Maryland after the title game had to be canceled because of bad weather.

After winning this year's tournament, the Lady Seminoles (50-18) are hoping for an at-large bid to next month's NCAA tournament.

"I feel pretty confident," said Graf, whose team still has two games remaining against South Florida on May 6. "We've got 50 wins. I certainly think we should get a bid. If we don't get it this year, I don't have no faith in the system."

It would spoil Saturday's celebration that was made possible with some terrific defense. Virginia (38-28) appeared ready to take control in the third inning after loading the bases.

Dana Bailey made an awesome throw from center field to prevent Maryland's Sarah Putnam from scoring. On the next play, FSU's Jesse McGregor helped end the inning following a fantastic stop on a ground ball.

"They had a chance to blow the game away early," Graf said. "That's a credit to our defense."

Hull cements FSU's course in title game

Of course, she wouldn't say so. Probably couldn't. It's not the kind of thing you say out loud.

But when Florida State senior catcher Kristy Hull came up to the plate in the sixth inning of Saturday afternoon's Atlantic Coast Conference Championship game, the score tied at 1, the game in her hands — just where she wanted it — she wanted to leave something, something permanent.

Her dad, Kevin, does that for a living. He's a bricklayer out in Arizona. But for this, Kristy's final home game, he was standing behind home plate in his "Bubba" shirt, a white T-shirt with his daughter's image — in full catcher's gear — on it, his nickname for his daughter "Bubba" in large letters across his sunburned shoulders.

"It's up to you," he hollered out as she walked to the plate. Hull looked out at Virginia pitcher Stacy Zagol, who until two batters ago had allowed but one Seminole hit.

But now, in the bottom of the sixth, there were two runners on and this was it. The perfect ending. Hull could finish her career at Florida State in the dirt she carried home with her every single day.

With one swing of the bat, she could win her team a fourth straight ACC championship. That's every year she was here.

"All I was thinking," Hull said, "was get it to the outfield. With 'Cedes (second baseman Christy Cerecedes) at second, I knew we had some speed. I knew she'd score."

After strike two, she took a deep breath, dug back in. This is for history, she thought. This will last. She swung and chopped one past third baseman Karen Bre-shears — no easy task on a day when both sides were making spectacular plays routinely — and Cerecedes came hauling around third. A scream went up on the Seminole side.

"I saw it go through," Hull said softly later, tilting her head to the side. "I knew we had a run."

Virginia's Tish Tabian came up throwing, Cerecedes had to slide, dust was everywhere ... safe! Hull, standing on second base, raised her arms over her head. Like a champ.

Three outs later, she was. And she came sprinting to the mound, hugging pitcher and tournament MVP Stacy Venable, crying with joy. It was hers. It was Florida State's.

In the dugout, she spoke in a voice choked with emotion and said she was numb. She heard her name over the loudspeaker one last time as she and teammates Jesse McGregor, Dana Bailey and Corrie Williams made the all-tourney team. That's four years running for her. Tradition.

But she didn't talk about what she had left. "I'm so happy for Stacy," she said. "She had so much heat on the ball in the seventh, I knew she'd do it. This should give her confidence a big boost, confidence she should have next year. Winning three games in three days ..."

Next year. When Hull wouldn't be here. In her moment of triumph, she wanted to make sure her team would be OK after she was gone.

No NCAA snub this time for Lady Seminoles

The Florida State softball team will play an NCAA regional in Stillwater, Okla.

Thirty teams had been announced. Just two selections remained for the NCAA tournament field to be complete. JoAnne Graf remained confident.

Even as her Florida State softball players were starting to think

"here we go again," and memories of last year's NCAA snub came rushing back, Graf remained calm.

The veteran softball coach was sure No. 14 FSU belonged. It did. For the 13th time in 14 years, FSU will play in an NCAA regional.

The Seminoles were selected Sunday to participate in the regional held in Stillwater, Okla., this week. FSU knows it will play Oklahoma State (34-17) to open the regional and that No. 1 seed Stanford (37-16) and Southwest Missouri State (28-19) complete the four-team field. No. 3 seed FSU will play on Friday. Game times haven't been announced.

The site couldn't be better for FSU's top two pitchers, Jennifer

White and Stacy Venable, who are from towns near Oklahoma City.

"I felt pretty good about this one," Graf said. "Once I saw Florida, UMass, Fresno State, LSU go in, teams we had beat, I felt we would get in."

"To be one of the 32 teams that gets to keep playing, it's exciting. This team has worked hard and they deserve it."

Graf had gathered her team at a local sports bar to watch the selection process via satellite. But the establishment was unable to receive the telecast and FSU players learned about each team selected from assistant coach Michelle Bolster, who listened by phone. Graf was on a phone outside, under less stressful circumstances, following the proceedings.

Senior Kristy Hull couldn't forget last year's disappointment as she kept listening for the words — Florida State. FSU was not selected a year ago despite a No. 15 ranking and 45-19-1 record.

"I was thinking, OK, we have to go," Hull said. "We have a better record. We had some big wins. Then we heard (Florida State). I burst into tears."

"(Getting back) was our main goal all season. We're so pumped. It didn't matter who we play, I think we'll beat them."

The winner of each of the eight regionals earns a place in the College World Series, to begin next week in Oklahoma City. The goal for FSU is to stay in Oklahoma for another week and play in its first College World Series since 1993. "We're hoping we can do that," Graf said. "Oklahoma State is a pretty scrappy team. They've lost some games. I feel real good about our chances. Stanford is a Pac 10 team and tough."

"I like our chances. This is a good regional for us to be in."

FSU, as it did a year ago, went into the selection process ranked among the nation's top 15 teams and with some impressive wins. The Lady Seminoles (52-19) have wins over the nation's Nos. 2, 3 and 6 teams. This time, that was enough to impress the NCAA.

The FSU baseball team will learn today whether it will host an NCAA Regional. FSU's $180,000 gross bid, which included a $117,000 guarantee, is the school's most aggressive bid ever for a regional.

Florida put in a guarantee between $115,000-$125,000.

There is a possibility that FSU, Florida and Miami could each host a regional. In this decade, FSU has made it to the College World Series four of the six times it has hosted a regional.

Among the other schools considered to have a good chance to host are Stanford, Arizona State, LSU, Alabama and Auburn. Only the sites and host teams will be announced today. The 64-team field will be announced next Monday.

FSU won't know who it opens the ACC Tournament against until Maryland and Virginia play on Tuesday in a play-in game. FSU, the top seed in the tournament, will play the winner of that game at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.
